

Scheduling Posts

WriteFreely supports scheduling posts to be published at a future date.

To schedule a post from the web application:

1. Publish a post as a Draft
2. At the top of the page, click Edit
3. Notice the new “i” icon at the top of the editor; click that
4. Change the “Created” time to a date in the future, and save your settings
5. Finally, go to your Drafts page
6. Click “move to your blog”

Notes

- Scheduled posts are hidden from your blog until the published date has passed
- Scheduled posts won't be sent out via federation / ActivityPub (to be fixed with T567)
